A single point of contact

The Unique Company is a dynamic, diversified group headquartered in KwaZulu-Natal, delivering innovative solutions across technology, chemicals, energy, automotive, security, and pharmaceuticals — driven by precision, performance, and a relentless commitment to excellence in every division.

At our core, we are a global sourcing and import-export partner. We connect clients to the products, materials, and services they need — wherever they are in the world — and manage the entire process end-to-end. From procurement and international logistics to customs clearance, storage, and final delivery, we provide a seamless, fully integrated supply chain solution.

The Unique Company (Pty) Ltd is a diversified group headquartered in KwaZulu-Natal, operating across technology, chemicals, energy, automotive, security, and pharmaceuticals. Built on a foundation of discipline, efficiency, and consistency, each division reflects the same commitment to delivering reliable, high-quality solutions.

Whether supporting complex industrial requirements or developing innovative software solutions, The Unique Company brings together multiple industries under one unified standard: precision, accountability, and execution. Based in South Africa, we serve as a single point of contact for diverse business needs across six specialised divisions.

How we work

Most clients come to us because they are tired of managing a chain of suppliers, agents, and transporters, each responsible for one link and none responsible for the outcome. We take the whole chain.

- Source — we identify and vet suppliers locally and internationally, and negotiate on your behalf.
- Import and export — freight booked, documentation prepared, shipment tracked.
- Clear — customs clearance handled, duties and compliance managed.
- Store — goods warehoused correctly for the product and the volume.
- Deliver — final delivery to your site, on a schedule that suits your operation.

Vision

To be the single point of contact South African businesses rely on — whatever the product, whatever the industry, wherever in the world it needs to come from.

Mission

- Source, import, and deliver what our clients need, managing the entire chain from procurement to final delivery.
- Apply the same sourcing and logistics discipline across every industry we operate in.
- Operate within each industry's regulatory framework properly, and without shortcuts.
- Create employment and skills development opportunities in KwaZulu-Natal and beyond.

A little about The Unique Company

The Unique Company began as an import and export business, moving goods for clients who needed a partner they could rely on to get things done properly. That origin still shapes how the group operates today: know the product, know the route, and take responsibility for the outcome.

What started as a single line of work has grown into six divisions, each built deliberately rather than opportunistically. A division launches when the knowledge, the supplier relationships, and the compliance groundwork are in place — because a name on a letterhead means nothing without the capability behind it.

Every division reports into one group structure. Finance, compliance, branding, and strategy are handled centrally, which keeps standards consistent and decisions quick. There is no layer between the client and the person accountable for the work; our leadership is hands-on by design.

We are a privately held South African company, registered with CIPC and based at Westway Office Park in Durban, KwaZulu-Natal. We work with clients across South Africa and source internationally on their behalf, wherever the product needs to come from.

THE UNIQUE COMPANY

OUR DIVISIONS

Six divisions. One way of operating.

The Unique Company operates through six divisions, each with its own identity within the group's shared brand. One capability runs through all of them: we source it, bring it into the country or send it out, and handle the clearing, warehousing, transport, and delivery. Each division applies that same capability to a different industry.

01 Unique Technologies

Software that runs South African operations

Unique Technologies designs and builds business software for South African companies, municipalities, and estates. The division specialises in taking processes that currently live on paper, spreadsheets, and WhatsApp — fleet compliance, fault reporting, workforce management, depot operations — and turning them into clean, reliable digital platforms that ordinary teams can actually use.

Every product is built for local conditions: load-shedding-tolerant, mobile-first for field workers, priced in Rand for local budgets, and aligned with South African regulation from POPIA to the LRA. Where hardware is required — sensors, tracking units, tablets — the group sources and imports it directly.

CORE OFFERINGS

- Municipal and estate fault-reporting platforms with full repair-workflow management
- Fleet compliance and management systems for transport operators
- Workforce, HR, and labour-broking management platforms
- Container depot and logistics operations software
- Document, permit, and asset tracking systems
- Custom application development, AI-powered analytics, and IoT integration

Unique Chemicals sources and supplies industrial, cleaning, agricultural, and water-treatment chemicals to factories, farms, municipalities, and cleaning companies. We handle the full chain — procurement from local and international suppliers, import and customs clearance, correct storage, and scheduled delivery — so clients deal with one supplier rather than a chain of them.

CORE OFFERINGS

- Industrial and cleaning chemicals sourced and supplied in bulk
- Agricultural chemicals for the farming sector
- Water-treatment chemicals for municipal and private plants
- Import, customs clearance, storage, and scheduled distribution

Unique Energy addresses South Africa's most pressing operational challenge: reliable power and fuel. The division covers two complementary lines — solar and backup power equipment sourced, imported, and supplied for residential and commercial installations, backed by maintenance contracts; and fuel brokerage, connecting diesel buyers with suppliers for bulk contracts.

CORE OFFERINGS

- Solar equipment sourced and supplied for residential and commercial installation
- Backup power — inverters and battery storage, imported and supplied
- Maintenance and performance contracts
- Diesel and bulk fuel brokerage
- Energy-as-a-service and microgrid solutions

Unique Automotive sources and imports commercial vehicle parts — bearings, brake components, filters, and engine parts — for fleet operators, workshops, and the wholesale trade. The division draws directly on the group's roots in cross-border transport and logistics, where parts availability is the difference between a truck earning and a truck standing.

CORE OFFERINGS

- Truck and trailer parts sourced and imported: bearings, brakes, filters, engine parts
- Standing fleet maintenance supply agreements
- Retail and B2B wholesale distribution
- Workshop and mobile mechanic support

Unique Security is positioned deliberately away from generic guarding. The division's focus is the security of goods in motion and at rest — logistics security, depot and warehouse protection, and anti-theft tracking integration — alongside armed response, VIP protection, and business and event security. Security equipment, from CCTV to access control, is sourced, supplied, and installed by the division directly.

CORE OFFERINGS

- Logistics, depot, and warehouse security
- Anti-theft tracking integration
- Armed response and VIP protection
- Business and event security
- CCTV, surveillance, and access-control equipment supplied and installed

Unique Pharmaceuticals supplies the medical products that clinics, mines, and construction sites go through every week — PPE, test kits, and consumables — sourced, imported, and delivered to proper storage standards. Alongside that, we coordinate workplace health and testing programmes through registered providers, while we build towards our own licensed testing capability. Clients get one point of contact for both supply and testing.

CORE OFFERINGS

- PPE, test kits, and medical consumables sourced and supplied
- Ongoing consumable supply scheduled around patient volumes
- Workplace health screening and drug testing, coordinated with registered providers
- Mobile blood testing arranged through registered partners
- Laboratory partnerships to expand testing capacity

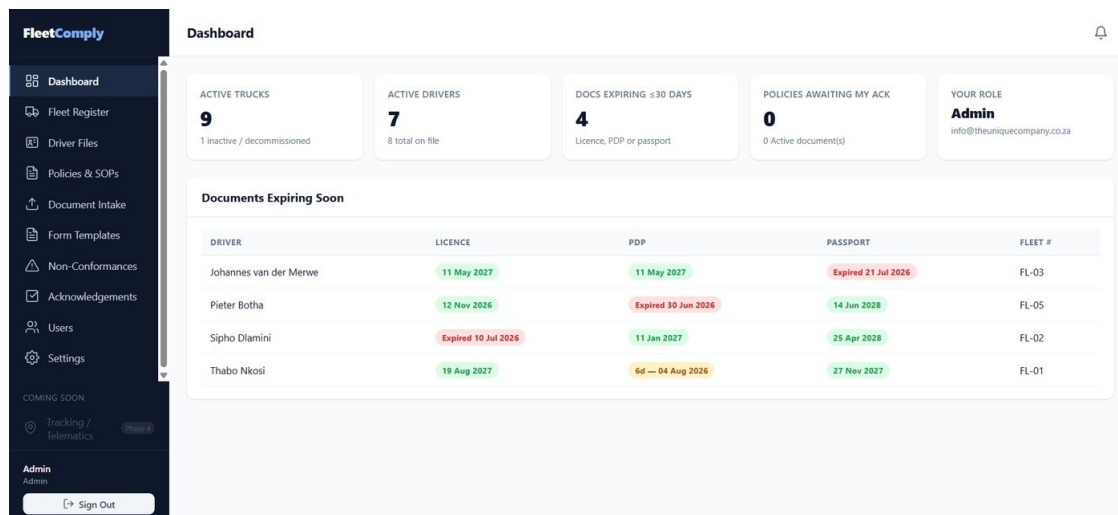

WHY US

Why work with The Unique Company

- One point of contact — procurement, international logistics, customs clearance, storage, and delivery handled end-to-end, so you manage one relationship instead of five.
- Founder-led and accountable — you deal with decision-makers, not call centres.
- Logistics DNA — the group grew out of import, export, and cross-border transport, and that operational discipline runs through every division.
- One group, one standard — precision, accountability, and execution, applied identically across every division.
- Technology at the core — our in-house software division gives every other division digital tools their competitors do not have.

Software already in service

Unique Technologies is the group's flagship division and its systems are live. FleetComply keeps transport operators compliant by tracking driver licences, professional driving permits, passports, and vehicle records, with automatic warnings before anything expires — replacing the spreadsheet that usually only gets checked after a fine arrives.

FleetComply — compliance dashboard. Shown with demonstration data; all names and figures are fictional.

Alongside FleetComply, the division runs UniqueForce for labour-broking and workforce management, Unique Depot for container depot operations, and Sebenza HR for permanent employee management. Demonstrations of any of these can be arranged on request.
